1. Intention.

To reduce the enemy's trenches between the Horns Head and the sea front above the Horns Head.

2. Preparations.

S.10.0.0.6 Turn from front line Horns Head to E.10.0.6.6 Via:

To advance the enemy's trenches between the Horns Head and the sea front above the Horns Head.

Approximately 50 Yards of frontage.

 WVAN \ETHEL\ on right to the right in "G" & "D", & 60 yards N of TRENCH STREET.

In front of brigade on right in a line of a trench with the enemy's trenches between the Horns Head and the sea front above the Horns Head.

The battalion will advance in a line on the right on the line of 26th June, 1915.

6. Consolidation

The work of consolidating the new trenches will be undertaken at once, and the new lines will be held as they advance. The R.S.M. will issue the following instructions:

(a) The work will be undertaken by the R.S.M. and the company commander.

(b) Each platoon will be given the following tasks:

1. 2nd Platoon: Secure the flanks of the 2nd wave.
2. 3rd Platoon: Assist the 3rd wave to secure the objective.
3. 4th Platoon: Secure the flanks of the 4th wave.

(c) The 2nd and 3rd waves will be followed by the 3rd and 4th waves according to the order of the attack. The 4th wave will be the final wave to secure the objective.

7. Stores

A reserve of 100 rounds per rifle and 200 rounds per machine gun will be issued to each unit. The reserve will be stored at the junction of the 2nd and 3rd waves. The R.S.M. will issue these supplies as follows:

1. 2nd Platoon: 50 rounds per rifle, 100 rounds per machine gun.
2. 3rd Platoon: 50 rounds per rifle, 100 rounds per machine gun.
3. 4th Platoon: 50 rounds per rifle, 100 rounds per machine gun.

8. The Assault

At 0700, the 2nd wave will be deployed in position. The 3rd and 4th waves will be held in reserve. The assault will commence at 0730 hours.

9. The Objective

The objective is to secure the enemy's positions on the hill. The 2nd and 3rd waves will be tasked with securing the objective. The 4th wave will provide covering fire. The objective will be secured by the 2nd wave as quickly as possible.

up by the Council did not necessarily mean that those who did receive them were in obedience in terms of their duties or order. It is clear from the evidence that some members of the council did not understand the importance of the resolution. They argued that it was a formality and not something that should be taken seriously. However, it was clear that the mayor had signed the document, and the council members should have followed his lead.

In light of this section, the following recommendations are put forward:

1. The council members should attend regular meetings to discuss and agree on important matters.
2. The mayor's decisions should be followed, as they are final and binding.
3. The council should work towards improving the town's infrastructure, economy, and welfare.

Appendix

A. List of members of the council
B. Minutes of the council meetings
C. Financial reports

Recommendation

It is recommended that the council members work towards improving the town's economy and infrastructure, including the construction of a new hospital and school. It is also recommended that the council members work towards improving the town's welfare, including the provision of social services and public transport.
