

Wartime West Sussex 1939 – 1945 EVACUEES

Evacuees arrive in Worthing

Worthing Herald, September 8th 1939

THE HERALD, FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 8, 1939

9

EMERGENCY RATIONS.—Each child, upon arrival, received a parcel containing an adequate supply of food for forty-eight hours.

Worthing's Welcome for Young Evacuees

IS THAT CHOCOLATE?—it looks like chocolate—it IS chocolate! Although not of the reputedly curious sex, this young refugee just had to find out what was in that mysterious ration issue.

BEWILDERED, quiet, but perfectly calm, the children await instructions after leaving their train. Their remarkable discipline did much to make the evacuation the success that it was.

WILLING HELPERS were ready to do anything to assist, even to carrying the baby. This little three years old, complete with gas mask, had an officer all to herself.

"A LITTLE HAND LUGGAGE" was the official order, but some of the children seemed to have large ideas! Even the tiny ones struggled manfully with huge loads, and never a grumble.

© Worthing Herald