HELPING TO WIN THE WAR

A WOMAN IN THE 'DAILY RACE'

THURSDAY, 2ND APRIL, 1916

At the Tannery, East Grinstead, an enthusiastic meeting, attended by representatives of the local munitions industries, was held to discuss the question of the adoption of the government's scheme for the production of leather as part of the war effort.

The chairman, Mr. J. A. Kenyon, said that the scheme had been well received by the workers, and that the government was prepared to do all in its power to assist them in their work.

Mr. Kenyon also expressed his appreciation of the efforts of the women who were working in the munitions industries, and he appealed to them to continue their work with enthusiasm.

The meeting was addressed by Mr. A. H. White, who said that the government was determined to do all in its power to assist the workers in their work, and that the government was prepared to do all in its power to assist the workers in their work.

The meeting was adjourned to a later date, when further discussions would be held on the question of the production of leather.
