PREFACE

The archives of The Royal Sussex Regiment were first deposited in the West Sussex Record Office by the Trustees of The Royal Sussex Regiment Museum in 1979.

The records date back to the formation of the forebear regiment, the 35th Foot, in 1701 and continue up to the amalgamation of The Royal Sussex into the Queen's Regiment in 1966. Whilst there is relatively little for the early period, the period from the Boer War to the First World War is well represented, making this an important collection for local, family and military historians.

Enquiries from researchers are most numerous for the First World War and accordingly most of the transcribing and indexing work which has been undertaken at the Record Office in recent years has been directed towards sources covering this period.

The bulk of this work has fallen upon Peter Pledger and Major John Ainsworth both of whom have now completed a number of projects based on Royal Sussex sources for the First World War. The subject of this present index is the massive nominal roll of the 2nd Battalion, Royal Sussex Regiment, for 1914-1918 (RSR MS 2/65).

The 2nd was a Regular Battalion and as part of the 2nd Brigade, 1st Division, spent the entire War on the Western Front, sustaining heavy casualties including 1723 officers and other ranks killed in action or died of wounds.

The nominal roll comprises a 349 page volume listing some 6800 names of NCO's and Other Ranks who passed through the battalion for active service between 12 August 1914 - 31 October 1918.

The entries are arranged alphabetically by first letter of the surname but within each section (eg. surnames beginning 'A') they are chronological according to date of embarkation for the Front.

An index listing all entries in a strict alphabetical sequence has long been a need and, in future, generations of researchers will be grateful to Mr. Pledger for undertaking this marathon task with the aid of his computer.

The index gives name and regimental number and page reference.

The researcher should be aware that before May 1916 the compilers of the original document tended to omit the prefixes to the regimental numbers, usually a 'G' or an 'L' (the usual prefixes for Home Counties Regiments).

Once an entry has been found in the index, recourse should be made to the document (now available only in photocopy form). This will provide information on dates of embarkation and joining the battalion plus, possibly, detail of leave, transfers, wounding, hospitalisation, awards, capture as a POW, demobilisation, or death.
