INCLUDED in the list of casualties which was issued by the War Office on Thursday were the names of four brothers, and were those of four local men, whose homes are in the borough. They are George Pannell, of 1, Cranworth-road; William Pannell, of 46, The Drive; Charles Pannell, of 27, Howard-street; and Arthur Pannell, of 61, Clifton-road. They were in the Royal Sussex Regiment, and three of them took part in the beginning of the advance, but all four were posted as being amongst the missing. The remarkable thing is that one of them, George, whose name appeared in the list as being missing since the 31st of July was home on leave at the time, and returned to his regiment on the 4th of August. In his case it would seem that an error has been committed, but we regret to state that in the case of William Pannell a notification has since been received from one of his Officers which leaves little doubt that he has been killed. The accompanying pictures are those of the four brothers.
