The War and Local Trade.

The most serious problem of the moment, in the eyes of all business men, is how to keep the people of this Town as far as possible fully employed. Reduction of staff, whether in the warehouse, the shoemakers, the workroom, or the factory, would be one of the worst evils which could befall the business community and the Town at large.

If the public will help us by placing their orders and making their purchases as usual, they will also help to a much greater extent the large number of men and women engaged in the maintenance of our establishments and workrooms, and the still larger number of people employed in the manufacture of the articles which we offer for sale.

With the assistance of our Customers we believe that it may be possible to maintain our regular Staff.

The inevitable difficulties of the situation will be greatly reduced if the Public realise the fact that the best way to safety is to alter their arrangements and habits of life as little as they can.
